

The crowds at the Chicago r tracks this year couldn't be proved upon for good manners, orderly conduct not an unpleasant mass the enjoyment of crowds.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

O, some go east and some go west. Saying, "We're off to take a rest!" They call it a vacation. Ah-Well some day they will come back. From Rome, North Pole, or Fond du Lac. Worn weary with vexation; Then they'll confide to you and me, Home is the best place one can be; And rest means occupation.

This doesn't mean "sour grapes" because I'm not flying over the North Pole or going to the ends of the earth for a vacation. It's jolly fine to know of so many good friends off to get all the joy possible out of change and relaxation. Yet it would seem less cluttered and peaceful if everybody else wasn't going there at the same time.

Wonder how many from Arlington Heights are making the same vacation trips and going to the same places? Of course if they don't go there somebody else will. Tours to Europe, card indexed and taped all over some how never appeal to me. I just want to visit the places have read about and know without botheration.

Said there were not enough people enough left in Arlington Heights to get up a "respectable" celebration the Fourth. Yesterday was Sunday, June 30, and it seemed as if all hellam was let loose. Breaking all our state and federal laws, the most beastly varieties of explosive sizzled boomed and exploded during church service hours and all day and all the night before and after.

Plenty of people left in town, but not all of the class that go to make a respectable celebration for our glorious Independence day. Too many of our newer old world citizens still mistake liberty for license to disobey all law and ignore the rights of others. When are they to be taught?

These noisy peace disturbing explosives are the relics of barbarism. Are we to employ the pagan methods of expressing patriotic joy. A day of rest was made unbearable by these people who know not what the day we honor rightly means. We should teach them music, patriotic songs, waving banners and eloquent speaking, should set an example for sane and civilized patriotic expression.

Another thing we observe those who glory in noise begin these distracting insane uses of explosives two or three weeks before our national holiday and night is made hideous by it. We all rejoice in right celebration. Let us remember anything that tortures or destroys the peace of our community is not patriotism.

There will be many happy little picnic groups off in woodland nooks and shaded places. Men will fish, and women will prepare the tempting menus and what won't the children do? I hope there will be for all a clear stream or lake where they can wade and swim and enjoy the tree out of doors as patriotic Americans have a right to enjoy it.

Told you last year about the grand prolonged bird festival in this fine old mulberry tree. Well, here they are. Long before the berries are ripe, birds of every tribe and description wing and flash in above and about that bounteous old tree. Robins, brown thrushes, mocking birds, black birds, purple grackles, hordes of them, song sparrows, bob-o-links, oh many more, scrapping and fighting over that mulberry tree.

Do you know it reminds me of our own America this big old tree. The birds are like unto the many peoples who hear of our wealth and marvelous resources and they come in hordes too often to trample and destroy and leave only ruin in their track. So greedily are they to gather of our bounty.

So it remains for our congress to force upon our president, the so-called national origins bill, our president who was not ashamed to say his grand parents were German. Yet these what shall I say bigoted un-Americans, pushed thru this insane measure. A measure that excludes the people who furnished 40 per cent of the men who saved us from a severed union.

A measure which would exclude such men as Sheridan, Siegel, Rosecrans and scores of our great leaders. A measure ignoring that nine out of ten men who were first to volunteer in the World war were of ancestry excluded by its content. And who is admitting and why when if we read the records of crime, we still question why?

For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain. These congressmen are peculiar, as Bret Harte said of the "Heathen Chinee." Never mind the end is not yet and our noble Quaker president isn't going to be ruled and overruled in his convictions of right and true loyalty. Bide a wee, bide a wee.

That reminds me of an old Scottish joke, not about nearness of a patriotic, "Me fathers a seeger," said a little Scotch lassie, "an my father too" said her playmate. "Ah, but me fathers a brave mon, he's been in war and he's got a hale gang o' medals. An' he's got a victoria cross, the queen pinned it on him, wi her ain hand." Breathlessly announced number one: "An' me father's braver cried the other one. He's been in a dozen o' wars, and he's got gangs and gangs o' medals an' Victoria crosses. An' he's got a bonnie wudden leg, an' with a sudden triumphant shriek, the queen pinned it on wi her ain hand."

Further on, we'll observe some more about our brave soldiers. This is the time we should think about the nations heroes while we are preparing to celebrate our great national holiday. Mean time I will not speak of Greece or Rome, but tell you things I've learned at home. Have you observed them? When you think we are in a bad mix up over taxes and assessments, look at Chicago and be thankful our public officials are not like that.

The glorious Fourth has surely come. And our folks are off for vacation. There isn't enough left here at home. For a joyful celebration.

There's a flag we won not long ago. When our business association, Led by our young P. M. we know, Gave our town one grand ovation.

The Fourth of July comes many a sigh. There's an air of sad foreboding; Taxes are heavy, assessments high. What next will they be unloading?

Expansion proves of small avail. If our honest men are not leading, Boosting and boasting end in a wail. When wrong methods are succeeding.

The darkest hour precedes the dawn. Skies clear the sun is shining; Honor still rules, let fears be gone. Our clouds show a glorious lining.

Cards from Mrs. E. Guild and her son, Chester's party motoring east, dated Niagara Falls June 28, tell us they had beautiful weather and a delightful trip so far. They were ferried across the river at Detroit and later were returning to New York. On one card the lion and unicorn were ramping over the beautiful picture of the falls. It will be all sunshine and fair weather to this cheerful woman and her little party wherever they may go.

There's a little boy next door who has a bit of the booster spirit in him, especially when it comes to Daddy's possessions. He had done a bit of bragging about Daddy's new car. So the other day when it was not in its usual place. We asked what about it, and he said Daddy took it to the shop. You see there was something wrong with its shiv-er-er, and all cars have to go to the shop when they get that way, don't they?

Do you know the Altenheim Farm long ago known as the Kehe farm. One of the prettiest sights we enjoyed when we came to this picturesque region in 1892, was the large orchard on the Kehe farm. It has since become a part of the Altenheim property. It was there, St. Peter's Christian day school held their picnic last Sunday. They fortunately finished their program when the rumble of thunder announced the approaching storm. All left over refreshments were sold and the crowd off for home before the storm came, after a happy day.

We all feel great thrills of patriotism as our Independence day approaches. Yet in the midst all these stars and stripes emotions, one is sad at the lack of obedience in children and of the defiance of law by older people. Obedience to the laws of God and our nation; obedience to parents and teachers, these are the bulwarks on which to build true American citizenship. May all in authority so seek to build.

God of our Fathers, lead us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget. And have we so soon forgotten the flower of our young manhood, who were urged to go to follow our country's flag to fight for they knew not what, to suffer a living death, as thousands of our soldiers are suffering today. One of the enthusiastic Ever Ready leaders, who visited our overseas veterans at Elgin said "And they seem so young, just like boys." God pity these, our boys, who followed the flag we shout for today. Have we forgotten?

It is the Fourth and we today, In loud acclaim, with drums and pipes; Greet our flag hung along the way, While guns salute the stars and stripes.

They followed on with eager breath. Our sons and brothers who now wait; Crippled and blind, for worse than death; The opening of the inner gate.

Today fall many a mother's tears, From weary eyes, hopeless she wipes; Her son, the hope of all the years, Followed to death the stars and stripes.

The soldier who on field of war, Fell bravely fighting in the strife; Honor has gained with naught to mar; Alas- for those dead still in life.

It was an easy thing to shout, And urge our young men on to fight. While we were safely hedged about. Immune within a purchased right.

O camouflage has many a mask, And so-called patriots many types; Who hides behind? We dare not ask.

The loudest shot for stars and stripes. Of blood and treasure urged to give. By those who gave not of their own. The blood, the tears, for those who live, A living death in sighs to moan.

It was "The Fourth" long long ago, Our country welcomed many types. Peoples who must be taught to show, Due honor to our Stars and Stripes.

O, God forbid the Stars and Stripes, On battle fields again shall wave, Send Thy peace angel who still wipes. Tears falling o'er the soldier's grave.

EASTERN STAR NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. K. Volz Park Ridge Chapter Are Surprised by Palatine Chapter on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. K. Volz, the latter instructor of the chapter were the "victims" of a surprise last Saturday night in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. The evening also served as a reception to Mrs. Volz in honor of her appointment as a member of the eligibility committee of the grand chapter.

The surprise was planned by the associate matron, Mary Meyer and the other officers. It proved to be not only a surprise to the bride and groom of 25 years ago, but full of surprises for those of the spectators who were among the actors who staged the mock wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Volz were called for at their home by Sister Hausman and when they arrived at the hall, they found that a wedding was in progress with Brother George as the groom and Sister Sally as the blushing bride. To the strains of the wedding march, John Senne as the acting bishop took his place at the altar while Hazel Deberg as the flower girl distributed petals in the path of the wedding party. Little Dickie Jahn (40 or more years old) looked just too cute for anything in his suit of green knee breeches and carefully carried the doughnut ring. Brother Herman Meyer was the beautiful bridesmaid, wearing green gettys, with picture hat and carried a bouquet of straw flowers.

Sister Lulu Herman with distinctive looking moustache was the best man who supported the nervous groom. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bride entered on the arm of her father, Brother Geo. Wilson, who with his swallow tail coat and stove pipe hat gave to the occasion the "400" touch. The wedding party passed thru an aisle of white satin ribbon, along which were baskets of daisies. Sisters Myra Fosket and Mildred Sanborn sang preceding the ceremony.

The bishop admonished the young couple to beware of all the pitfalls of married life and secured promises of obedience and action that will here turn the tables in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. K. Volz.

A short program followed the ceremony, presented by Miss Mable Longly, of Des Plaines who sang several solos, Miss Wolf who gave some dances and Miss Evelyn Meyer of Niles Center, who read a number of selections.

After the knot had been securely and firmly tied by Bishop Senne, he presented to the bride and groom, who had been twenty-five years married, twenty-five silver dollars, the gift of the officers of 1929 and the past matrons and patrons of the chapter, nearly all of whom during their terms of office had come into close contact with sister Volz and her husband. George is not an instructor, but he provides the frivolity that goes well with the more serious things that his wife tries to impress upon the officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Volz were also the recipients of silver gifts from neighboring chapters in which she acts as instructor.

During the evening, the worthy matron, Isabelle Stroker and worthy patron, Walter Stroker took their places and the former told of the pleasure and honor that was felt by the chapter in the appointment of Sister Volz to the eligibility committee.

Following the completion of the program in the lodge room, there was still another surprise in the dining room. An immense birthday cake occupied the center of the tables and each and every one present had a piece of that cake. Then there was a handkerchief shower beneath an umbrella, which included "hankies" for the bride and groom of all colors, and sizes. We will not attempt to tell you what Sally and George said to all this, except that of all the happy times they have experienced in Palatine chapter, none were ever more appreciated and enjoyed by them to a greater degree than last Saturday's event.

And Various Other Places

The advice that a man, if he wants to live long, should keep his mouth closed when angry is especially good in Chicago and while traveling in Soviet Russia and Fascist Italy.—Toronto (Canada) Daily Star.

Fast Day at the Zoo

All carnivorous animals kept in captivity, such as lions and tigers, must fast one day out of seven if they are to remain in good health.

The official visit of our W. G. M. Sarah Daniels, June 25, was a delightful event. Sister Daniels and her official family, were our guests at a 6 o'clock dinner.

Sister Daniels was presented with a dancing doll who carried a tiny bag on her arm in which was concealed a gift of gold. Our A. M. Sister Eikebrecht, in her speech to Sister Daniels, said the doll was to remind her of their girlhood days together at dancing school. After dinner all adjourned to the chapter room where Emma Caulfield, W. M., opened the meeting with all officers present except that Ruth Koren Bjork protested. Sister Caulfield invited our W. G. M. Sister Daniels to the East, giving her a hearty welcome and informing her she had been elected honorary membership in Park Ridge chapter. The chaplain, Marshall, and Star points greeted her in verse and presented her with a bouquet of flowers representing the points of our order. Bro. Gielow also received a cordial welcome and he too was informed of his honorary membership in Park Ridge chapter.

Escorted to their posts were Ethel Brouillet, G. Chap.; Louise Turner, G. Mat.; Walburg Peters, G. Adah; Pearl Palmer, G. Rith; Clara, Schauss, G. Esther; Grace Engelhardt, G. Martha; Fannie Kundsén, G. Electa; Bro. Albert Daniels and John Garner, P. G. P. of Illinois; five G. R.'s, seven W. M.'s, three W. P.'s, fifteen P. M.'s and P. P., twelve members G. C. including Emma Caulfield, our W. M., who has been appointed on the obituary committee. Our Instructress Gussie Miller, needs no introduction as her untiring efforts have endeared her to the chapter as well as to a large number of acquaintances of other chapters.

The candidates were Mrs. McWherter and Miss Ruth Caulfield, daughter of our W. M. and when the golden gavel was thus lengthened our minds and hearts were filled with appreciation and love for the Order of the Eastern Star. The work was given beautifully by our officers and we feel sure that it must have made an everlasting impression on the minds of the two candidates.

Sister Daniels commended Park chapter and its officers very highly. She is well known to many of us and personal friendships of many years standing exist between her and some of our members. We also listened to remarks from Brother Gielow and from our Instructress, Gussie Miller, who had all reasons to be happy for her chapter family.

Sister Hanna Billings, chairman of dinner was given a rising vote of thanks for her delightful dinner and beautifully decorated dining room and had a most enjoyable evening.

DesPlaines Also Meets Difficulty To Move Depot

Des Plaines has also discovered that it is not so easy to get rid of an unsightly freight depot in the center of the business district. The Suburban Times says as follows: "Act to Move Freight Depot. The request of the city council and of the city plan commission, who have asked the Northwestern railway to remove their unsightly freight depot from its present location in the heart of the city's downtown business district, has appeared to have met with disfavor from the railroad officials.

"The railroad company, who plan to move the old frame building just far enough south to allow for the third rail, now in process of construction from Gladstone Park, have written the City Plan Commission stating that 'the business of the town seems to prefer the present location.'

"Suggest Industrial Site. The council and plan commission have suggested that the railroad move the freight depot to the industrial section northwest of the downtown district, a reasonable request and one that would take away a building which has been an eyesore to the downtown district for many years. "Taking their cue that 'the business of the town seems to prefer the present location,' the city is endeavoring to ascertain the opinion of local business men in this respect. A petition is being circulated now asking the removal of the depot to the industrial location. Business men do not appear to be hesitating to sign the petition."

ANNIVERSARY OF THE NEW PLYMOUTH

Display of Improved Models in Patriotic Setting Good Showing

Observing first birthday of the Plymouth motor car, which coincides with the birthday of the Nation, Phil Engelking and Fred Dahm, local Plymouth dealers here, on display the new Plymouth cars. Similar displays are being conducted by dealers thruout the country from June 29 to July 13, inclusive.

The improved Plymouth cars in a variety of new color combinations feature the showing. They are being displayed in a patriotic setting of red, white and blue decorations. An unusual amount of interest was evident among the many who have thronged the show rooms.

Inauguration of the policy of offering the Plymouth in more than one standard color combination is a further indication of the desire of the Plymouth Motor Corporation to give to the public a product that is outstanding in appearance as well as inherent quality and performance. In addition to these new color combinations, the improved Plymouth now possesses a number of engineering refinements in both the body and chassis. Body engineers at the factory have been working consistently with the thought in mind of making the Plymouth bodies even stronger, more roomy and more comfortable than they have been.

Those who have visited the show-rooms and inspected and driven one or more of the models, were particularly impressed with the roominess and the comfort of the full size bodies that this car possesses. Women who drove the cars were enthusiastic concerning the Plymouth's ease of operation and handling.

Although this is only the first birthday of the Plymouth, production at the factory in Detroit has already reached enormous proportions. In less than ten months from the time the first car was produced, production figures reached one thousand units a day—a record for the entire industry.

Visitors at our showrooms during this anniversary showing will be given an opportunity to win one of a number of valuable prizes we are offering to those writing the best letters to us giving their reactions to the performance of the improved Plymouth.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 30.

The Golden Text was, "O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles" (Psalms 43:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound" (Isaiah 61:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The letter of Science plentifully reaches humanity today, but its spirit comes only in small degrees. The vital part, the heart and soul of Christian Science, is Love" (p. 113).

Artistic Creation

The theme of Watts' "Hope" is symbolized by the figure of a woman seated with bowed head. She still clings to her lyre, all the strings of which with the exception of one are broken. This is to suggest the dominant quality of hope, which prevails in even the most adverse circumstances.

WEDDING BELLS RING

Clausing-Haemker Wedding Solemnized Saturday Afternoon

Miss Lydia Clausen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clausen and Mr. Alfred Haemker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haemker all of Arlington Heights were married in St. Peter's church Saturday evening, June 29th. The bride's brother, Rev. Chris. Clausen of Allegan, Michigan, solemnized the sacred marriage vows.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Helen Schoenbeck, was matron of honor, her husband, Mr. Alfred Schoenbeck, attendant. The little flower maiden was Verna Glade, prettily attired in a blue gown. The bridesmaids were the Misses Helen Giescke, Lydia Meyer, Miss Schaefer, and Mabel Schoenbeck.

The attendants were Elroy Winkelman, Theodore Clausen, Walter Clausen and Ernest Moehling. The ushers were Fred Meyer Jr. and Ralph Meyer.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white with long veil and bridal flowers. Her bouquet of the same. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were gowned in fabrics of rainbow tints and carried roses to blend in the color scheme, a pretty setting for the lovely costume of the bride.

The three automobiles conveying the bridal party to the church were gayly decorated and were driven by Messrs. Raymond Albrecht, Albert Meyer, and Richard Schoenbeck.

After the ceremony and congratulations the bridal party went to the school hall where the Dorcas aid served a first class wedding feast, as only those skilled ladies can. The gathering included about 200 guests.

After the supper a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents in South Evergreen avenue, where merriment and good wishes prevailed in the happy company.

About the midnight hour, the newlyweds quietly slipped away and before the company knew where or how, they were away on the wedding trip, this deponent sayeth not where.

Palatine Boys Build a Glider According to Own Ideas

Chas. Abel of south Brockway street, Westphalia, have nearly completed the construction of a sail plane and hope to launch the craft of a high hill in the vicinity of Cary, Ill. some time during July. A sail plane is modeled, a little like a glider in that it has no motive power, but it is so constructed that it will rise to a greater height than a glider and has a greater sailing efficiency and range. The present world's duration record is four hours and it is this record that the boys hope to break. The altitude record of 6,000 feet will not be attempted here as the wind currents are not sufficiently strong.

The sail plane depends entirely upon wind currents for its power. It takes off by means of an elastic rope with which the plane is pulled down a hill or along a cliff until it rises, which occurs when the wind currents become sufficiently strong. Speed Westphal, one of the builders, will be the man at the controls when the test is made and he has received a number of inquiries from people who desire to witness the test. The fuselage of the ship is not much wider than a boy's wagon and nearly as light, except the landing gear, which is of heavy iron. The wings are on either side and give the ship the appearance of a monoplane. The wings have a wide spread.

The construction of the ship was no little task. The boys were in communication with Alfred Gymnich of Germany, the holder of the world's record and whom they consulted on several matters not clear to them. Speed says that the ship may be a flop and it may be a record breaker and he will either rise to the clouds in that test or fall to the ground, but as he and his partner have followed sound principles of aviation.

Miss Irene Bonesse and Leonard Weidner Married Last Saturday

Miss Irene Bonesse and Leonard Weidner were married Saturday, June 29, at St. James church by the Rev. Father Gall. The bridegroom's parents live at the corner of Miner and Pine avenue. Details of the wedding at this time are not at hand as the account goes to press at an immediate hour.

Instructors in Lutheran Schools Married Saturday

On Saturday afternoon, June 29, 1929, Fred W. Wiedman, primary instructor at Immanuel Lutheran school of Dundee, Ill., and Emma L. Hansing, primary instructor at Immanuel Lutheran school of Palatine, Ill., and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hansing of 201 S. Evergreen avenue, Arlington Heights, Ill., were united in holy wedlock at the home of the bride's parents. The bride, wearing a gown of satin crepe and carrying a large bridal bouquet of white roses, was attended only by flower girls, Grace and Rose Marie Groh, nieces of the groom. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. A. Brauer of Dundee.

Government Fiscal Year Begins; Where Goes $4,500,000,000?

The budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 has been published. With scarcely anyone does its meaning strike home. The budget calls for an expenditure of $4,500,000,000.

A critic commenting upon it in a March publication said that when you are buying $4,500,000,000 worth of anything you are entitled to know what you are getting and also that it is a surprise to split one and even giving a split thought to the subject that the Government department with which the public is most familiar and which exercise the greatest power are among the cheapest to maintain.

The presidency is in the limelight now, for there is a new president in the White House. The appropriation for president, vice president and the White House is about as much per year as one twelfth of what we will use next year to recondition one battleship.

Then Congress—531 members, 96 Senators and 435 Representatives. Their salaries, upkeep of Capitol building, Congressional Library Government printing office and the Botanical Gardens total up to the exact cost authorized in the new cruiser bill for constructing one airplane carrier.

The United States Supreme Court, highest and busiest of all tribunals costs $340,000 a year. The upkeep of the Hydrographic office of the Navy costs $380,000.

Then where does the money go? For wars, wars of the past, preparing for wars of the future. In the coming fiscal year about $2,000,000,000 will be taken to pay the cost of past wars; army and navy pensions, veterans bureau, interest on money borrowed to carry on the World war. The war department's appropriation for next fiscal year is $455,000,000.

For Human Welfare. How about the promotion of public health. For this Government appropriates less than one half of one per cent of the total. Public education. About one fourth of one percent of the total. Science and research. About four fifths of one percent of the total.

SouthSideBreezes

Did someone want to know in last Friday's paper, "What is the matter with the South Side?" Well, we're here to tell you that the South Side is O. K., no "ifs."

You just bet your little booties the South Side activity is showing up. Not only in the business district, but also in the residential district. We want to thank whoever wrote that article. It was "vure nize," of them.

Well, here's the Fourth of July rolling around again with all its noise, color and destruction.

I was talking to several of the kiddies on the South Side the other day and all I heard was the "Wild West Show." They were going to see honest-to-goodness cow boys, n' Indians. Oh boy, ride 'em cowboy. At any rate I guess the South Side was well represented at the big show.

Mr. George Kennedy of Danville, Illinois, was here visiting friends on the South Side Sunday evening and stayed over for the opening day at the track.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hofstetter and family expect to spend the Fourth at Powers Lake.

We were sorry to hear of the misfortune of Miss Tossmin living on South Duntion. It seems Miss Tossmin and three other friends were riding around over town one night last week and while riding around in Stonegate the car slid in some mud and headed for the ditch. Frightened beyond reason, Miss Tossmin leaped from the car. She was taken to a doctor immediately but had received no serious injuries from the fall, but was bruised badly.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Barrett and family left Tuesday for Addison, Michigan for a visit with friends and relatives.

The rattle-tap-tap of the tin pan parade gathered at the Clausen home last Saturday evening, reached the ears of many South Siders. Getting married must be a lot of fun, especially when friends furnish such delightful music.

If you get into trouble, it will pay you out. If you get sick, it will pay the doctor's and druggist's bills. If you want to take a trip, it will pay your way. If you want to develop your business or take advantage of some good investment, you can do it at a moment's notice.

But the man without money can do none of these. Instead, whenever opportunity is offered or adversity befalls him, he is forcibly embarrassed.

Speeder Ditches Police But Lands in Jail

Broke Svenson of 1804 Irving Park boulevard and Palatine, he having two addresses, evidently returning from the races, took the speed law into his own hands Monday when he was stopped for its infringement by Officer Lesch of Mt. Prospect.

Upon being ordered to turn around, Mr. Svenson started toward Chicago and while near the village limits proceeded to turn his car toward Officer Lesch and force him into the ditch. A county officer saw the affair and immediately assisted officer Lesch, both taking up the chase, which ended at Milwaukee avenue and Dempster street, where several county officers assisted in bringing this reckless driver to a halt.

The county officer took charge of the prisoner and locked him up at the county station. The case is set for hearing Friday afternoon, according to reports.

There is no excuse for the act of trying to kill an officer of the law and Officer Lesch is to be commended on his courage in keeping up the chase and getting his man.

SENSATION IN "THE TRIAL OF MARY DUGAN"

Any doubts that may have lingered in the minds of motion picture critics as to Norma Shearer's greatness as a screen actress have been forever dispelled by her first appearance in an all-talking picture, "The Trial of Mary Dugan," now playing at the Roosevelt theatre.

Miss Shearer's voice is superb. It has a warm, vibrant quality that is in strange and yet pleasing contrast to her cool, aloof personality, and her voice is even more charming than her beauty.

"Last of Mrs. Cheyney" Crook Comedy With A Surprising Plot

The happiest show of this year, or any year, comes to the stage of the Oriental theater next week, starting Friday, July 5. All Kvale and His Jazz Collegians promise to "Cheer Up" every one who attends the "temple of jazz" next week—Al invites them all to bring their troubles with them and leave them all at the Oriental.

He's calling this joy-festival "Cheer Up". And Al will incorporate everything joyful to his new show—rapturous beauty, haunting melodies, sizzling syncopation, and gorgeous girls. "Cheer Up" is the big thrill of the year!

Clare Bow arrives at the Oriental Friday in her most teasing, tempting, recklessly captivating role, "Dangerous Curves." There's danger in her eye for all men who say that no woman can soften their hearts.

"Dangerous Curves" is an all talking, all daring drama of youth unrestrained, undisciplined and unconventional. Its theme centers around the "show under the big top"—the three ring circus, with its clowns, ballyhoos, steam callopes, peanuts and performing animals. Clare Bow in this new youth romance, is a great actress as well as a sensational beauty, playing the role of a circus bareback horse rider, with an ambition.

Motor Club Warns Against Poison Ivy

"Leaflets three; let them be," is good advice for avoiding the misery caused by poison ivy, which can be recognized by its greenish flowers or white berries in conjunction with its three leaves, says a bulletin issued by the touring bureau of the Chicago Motor Club.

While this rule may lead to the avoidance of some innocent plants, it is a simple and effective measure of safety, indorsed by botanists with the United States department of agriculture, the bulletin said.

"Poison ivy grows both as a vine and as a trailing shrub, on high as well as low ground," the bulletin continued. "Poisoning usually results from touching or brushing against the plants, or from handling clothing or other articles that have come in contact with them. After exposure, the hands or other parts affected should be thoroughly washed and rinsed several times, preferably in running water. The nails should receive particular attention. Kitchen or laundry soap, which contains a large amount of alkali, should be used, and a heavy lather should be created.

"If the poison has become malignant, a physician should be called. If none is available, as sometimes happens in the backwoods, a 5 per cent solution of potassium permanganate applied locally is a good remedy. Local applications of cooking soda or Epsom salt, one or two teaspoons mixed in a cup of water, are likewise helpful. These solutions may be applied with light bandages or clean cloths, which should be kept moist and changed frequently in order to avoid further infection. The poisoned skin should be carefully cleaned and dried at night and left exposed to the air. Immersing the infected parts for several minutes in water as hot as possible increases the discomfort for the moment, but relief follows.

"Ivy poisoning sometimes reveals itself within a few hours after exposure, or it may not appear for five or more days. Vacationists who plan an extended trip in unsettled regions will do well to carry one or two remedies in their kit."

The child was 2 years and eight months of age. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, July 3 at St. John's church, Niles. Rev. L. A. Grothe officiating.

NORTHBROOK

Mrs. E. Strayer and children are staying with her sister, Mrs. Ed. Meintzer and family several days. Mrs. Jessie Studman called on Mrs. Carl Laue Tuesday evening and Mrs. John MacLachlan Wednesday evening.

We are glad to report that Mrs. MacLachlan is getting along nicely after the operation of falling down the cellar stairs. Many neighbors and friends of Northbrook camp, hope for her speedy recovery. A beautiful bouquet of flowers were brought to her by Oracle Minnie Pfingsten last week, and several other neighbors kindly called on her.

The farewell party given in honor of Father Reichelt, of St. Norbert's Parish, who leaves this week for Mississippi, was well attended. After a very interesting talk given by the new pastor, Father Braun, and Father Reichelt, a delicious lunch of home made cake, sandwiches, ice cream and coffee were enjoyed by all present. The parishioners gave a hearty welcome to Rev. Braun and showed sincerely their best wishes to the new pastor; also their heartfelt regret to Rev. Reichelt, their past pastor. They sincerely wish him success and pleasure at his new home. They will all remember Father Reichelt and will never forget the many sacrifices he made for his parishioners.

The reunion of students of the Northbrook school was a big success. Those who graduated since 1892 and pupils of an earlier date were present. A pleasant time was had viewing some real old pictures. A delicious basket lunch was enjoyed afterwards. A suggestion was made to have this reunion an annual affair and hopes of letting more of the students know about this happy event, so the last Saturday of June has been set aside as the annual day to the school. The excellent weather, the kiddies had a delightful time on the "slides" and "teeters." "Idle Rich" at Uptown Theatre in County Frolics

What might be considered one of the most experienced casts in dialogue films ever assembled was called together to make "The Idle Rich," all talking picture which opens at the Uptown Theater for one week, Friday, July 5.

"The Idle Rich" adapted from the novel, "White Collars," is a gripping tale of marriage between parties of different social sets.

Conrad Nagel plays the role of a serious-minded millionaire who marries his pretty stenographer, Lila Hyams. Bessie Love has the fast-moving comedy role of the bride's little flapper sister.

All sorts of comedy, human interest and true-to-life complications are injected into the plot when he meets her family.

Verne Buck and his orchestra are getting ready for "Country Club Frolics" to begin Friday at the Uptown theater.

"The Voice of the City" All-Talking Drama At Senate Theatre

Willard Mack, celebrated author and actor, brings his own story, "The Voice of the City," to the Senate Theatre screen next week, starting July 6. It is a powerful all-talking drama alive with each nerve-tingling sight and sound of a great metropolis. It relates a soul-grIPPING, spell-binding love tale of the voice of the city—its vibration of life and love, of hate and fear, of loyalty and double-crossing, of romance and beauty.

In addition to a thrilling plot and excellent talking effects, "The Voice of the City" boasts an all-star Broadway cast of players, featuring Willard Mack himself, in his talking debut; Robert Ames, Sylvia Fields and John Miljan.

All Men Are Created Equal

That was one of the "self-evident truths" proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence. And undoubtedly it is true. All men do not REMAIN equal, however, for the simple reason that some are extravagant while others are thrifty.

The real difference in equality is usually measured by the size of the individual bank account. How about yours? If you aren't saving money now, open a Savings Account in this bank and GET STARTED. You can do so in less than a minute.

SILVER WEDDING BEAUTIFULLY CELEBRATED

Rev. and Mrs. Julius Toepel Feted in St. Matthews Hall

June 29, 1904 in a little country town in Wisconsin, wedding bells rang out for Miss Laura Leyhe of Mayville, and Rev. Julius Toepel, a young pastor in that town of Maine, Cook County, Illinois. Saturday evening, June 29, 1929 the twenty-fifth anniversary of this happy occasion was celebrated in St. Matthews school hall, East Maine, where Rev. and Mrs. Toepel were host and hostess to 120 invited guests.

A color scheme of pink and silver was used in the artistic hall decorations and the favors and decorations on the long tables, around which the crowd assembled at 7 p. m. Led by Rev. O. Heidtke of Morton Grove and accompanied at the piano by Teacher Sonn, all joined in singing a song of praise, "Bis Hieher Hat Mich Gott Gebracht," after which Rev. Heidtke eloquently delivered a fitting address, extolling the blessings heaped upon the honored couple in their quarter century of married life and wishing them continued grace and blessings of their Heavenly Father in the future.

Then came the sumptuous banquet served by the choir and enjoyed by all. Mr. August Geweke selected to act as toastmaster, ably filled that position, calling first on Pastor Heidtke, who obliged with another little speech of a more humorous nature. Pastor Toepel's brother, Adolph, of Bangor, Wisconsin, was next called upon, who stated that there were three things necessary for a man's success: Education, Experience and a wife and he proceeded to explain each one to the delight of the audience. Mr. Martin Leyhe of Plymouth, Wisconsin, brother of the "silver bride" and Mr. John Koepsel of Mayville, brother-in-law, were also called on and responded, both of them stating that they preferred to have their wives speak for them.

The ladies were next heard from, Mrs. William Tagtmeier, wife of the Town Clerk and Miss Alvina Beto, president of the Ladies' Aid adding their congratulations to those already heaped upon the happy couple, after which some of the old neighbors were called upon. Wm. Wichman, Sr., spoke of the intimate friendship existing between the two families and declared Rev. Toepel to be the best neighbor one could have. This statement was verified by Mr. George Steil who heaped more praise upon his kind neighbor and related incidents prior to and following the arrival of the new couple in this community 25 years ago and expressed the wish of the entire gathering that the golden anniversary might be celebrated here 25 years hence. Mr. John Jaacks, another neighbor, added his best wishes for Good Luck and success in the future.

John F. Steil, Henry Koch and Fred Finnern, trustees, and John E. Kath secretary of the congregation were given an opportunity to express their thoughts and congratulations and Mr. Finnern delighted the crowd with an interesting little story. Teacher Sonn and the school board, George Engel, Christ Hennig and Hans Pochels were not forgotten. Mr. Engel officially conveyed the congratulations of the board while Mr. Hennig's narrative of a retired pastor and book agent won hearty applause.

Comparing the young folks with the older ones the former are inexperienced when it comes to silver weddings, etc., according to Miss Mabel Steil, who in complying with the toastmaster's call extended best wishes for the future happiness of Rev. and Mrs. Toepel and hoped that they might enjoy many more happy years together and in this community.

After calling on Wm. R. Moeller, former church secretary and Mr. Henry Ahrensfield, Mr. Geweke himself added a few clever and most appropriate remarks and Rev. Heidtke closed with a prayer.

Intervening hours until midnight were filled with pleasant conversation and in viewing the beautiful gifts of silver bestowed upon Pastor Toepel and his bride. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served at midnight while the beautiful rendition of a group of cornet solos by Mr. H. Gehm fittingly brought the evening to a close. It was a happy occasion for all and one which will never be forgotten by those attending and if all the good wishes extended Rev. and Mrs. Toepel came true, the path to their golden wedding will lie over sunshine and roses.

LAUDEN DONT LIKE CANADA

Eric Landen and family left Mannheim June 22 in their new Studebaker "88" sedan for western Canada. They have relatives in Saskatchewan, Can. Fine roads all the way, no rain, only one puncture. We expect to leave Canada July 1 to drive thru Montana and Yellowstone Park on our way home. Canada is what I would call "no man's land." No place for people from Illinois. I am bringing a surprise for the people of Franklin Park.

LeRoy and Wesley Landen are the owners of a new Ford sedan.

The art of conversation is not easily encouraged in man and wife. A married couple have so few things to talk about; most things are understood or go without saying.—American Magazine.

NILES CENTER

Dr. R. V. Sintzel's wife has been ill and had a nurse in attendance. HOW PROPER AIR PRESSURE SAVES TIRES

Garages and filling stations all over the country recently have been supplied with posters giving the proper inflation pressures for front and rear tires of all 1929 passenger cars. This is a result of surveys which show that one of the chief causes of damage to tires is improper air pressure. The chief factor in the life of a pneumatic tire is the air it contains. Practically all gasoline filling and car service stations give free air service and yet a surprisingly large number of people ride around on under-inflated tires, holding air in sufficient to bear the weight of the car. They do not understand that the tire is simply a container, liable to many sorts of damage if the pressure is not sufficient.

Under-inflation destroys more tires than any other factor, is the statement of the Rubber Manufacturers' Association, which is conducting a campaign of education among motorists. They bring out several interesting facts in a digest of the latest information on tire care recently issued.

Among other things, if there is not enough air to carry the load, weight is transmitted to the fabric, causing extreme bending in the side wall. Then comes a pinch or break that causes a slow leak or blowout. Under-inflation also causes separation of the tread rubber from the carcass of the tire or between layers of fabric and causes a destructive chafing action. Insufficient pressure also causes excessive tread wear, particularly noticeable in balloon tires which sprawl over the road instead of running on a true rounded surface. Clincher casings, under inflated, may develop rim cutting caused by the rim chafing the side wall at or just above the bead. A sharp jolt may drive the tire against the rim, crushing the fabric or cords. In fact, when a casing is run very badly under-inflated the tire is caused by extreme deflation and traction weave literally tears the cord carcass apart.

It does not take much under-inflation to start actual damage. Experiments show that a drop of more than three pounds in a balloon tire before re-inflation may cause any or all of the serious results mentioned. The old rule-of-thumb method of pushing the finger into a tire and remarking, "I guess that's about right," has gone out among motorists who have any interest at all in the life of their tires. Nobody can tell with his thumb whether a tire has lost three pounds. The constant use of a tire gauge is the best protection. Any tire dealer will be glad to advise motorists of the correct inflation pressure according to the official chart prepared by the Rubber Manufacturers Association.

Roman Heating System

Most of the larger Roman houses in classic times were made comfortable by a good central heating system. The heat from the lower floor ascended to the upper rooms through terra cotta flues set between the outside and inside walls, precisely as is often the case in modern days.
